About us

The Network is run by consumers for consumers. Our aim is to raise the standard of health care in the mental health sector, through representation, lobbying and active involvement in new developments in the ACT.

Through us, consumers can contribute to improving the mental health system for everyone.

We are a vibrant organisation committed to the rights of consumers, promoting a respectful and inclusive system that involves consumers, carers and other professionals.

Who is a consumer?

A consumer is a person who identifies as having lived experience of mental illness or disorder, past or present, or has personally used a mental health service for their health needs or recovery journey.

How can I get involved?

We offer many ways for consumers to be involved in our work through our education and training programs, Consumer Representation and consultations with consumers on policy and program developments.

Become a Consumer Representative for the Network and use your experience and skills to make change and improve the mental health system in the ACT. It is a way you can directly give feedback and recommendations about how changes to services or policies can help or hurt consumers in their recovery journeys.

Use your lived experience to contribute to the review and development of legislation, policy, programs and services that affect you and other consumers.

We welcome you giving us feedback about your experiences with services and programs, and collect feedback on systemic issues through forums, consultations and other means. We then de-identify all feedback and provide it to the relevant agencies and organisations. This supports improvements to services, programs, legislation for all people who access mental health services in the ACT.

We offer free training opportunities to help you gain the tools and skills you may need to empower yourself in your daily life and to become a Consumer Representative to stand up for ALL consumers.

Our training also helps you to understand your rights under the Mental Health Act 2015 (ACT) and put in place your decisions about your treatment, care and support in case you become unwell in the future.
